

J. R. JORDAN TENDERS RESIGNATION AS VICE SUPREME KNIGHT OF THE GOLDEN CHAIN AND QUILTS THE ORGANIZATION

J. R. Jordan, former Vice Supreme Knight of the Golden Chain, tendered his resignation, January 25, to become effective immediately. Mr. Jordan thanks those who elected him to the office but desires the public to know that he is in no way connected with the order after January 25, 1922.

Mr. Jordan has been connected with the Golden Chain since its organization and expresses best wishes for its future success.

PYTHIAN MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN SUCCESSFUL IN MANY CITIES.

That the drive for new members of the Knights of Pythias staged in several cities has been highly successful is learned from an open letter to the jurisdiction by Grand Chancellor Willis. A total of 4798 new members have been added to the Order during the past three months and the drive has not closed. For the months of October, November and December, the Pythians have been conducting Pythian membership drives in the following places from time to time.

The result is as follows:

|--------------|------|
| Corsicana | 13 |
| Mt. Pleasant | 25 |
| Calvert | 35 |
| Palentine | 103 |
| Bryan | 111 |
| Austin | 177 |
| Marshall | 197 |
| Waco | 259 |

| San Antonio | 321 |
| Galveston | 433 |
| Fort Worth | 478 |
| Houston | 1030 |
| Dallas | 1345 |
| Total | 4798 |

This is by far the greatest record ever made by any organization among our people in a Membership

Drive for three months.

At the last Grand Lodge, the K. of P. had a membership of 16,353. This number added to the 4798 taken in during the drives gives the membership of 21,151, saying nothing of the number taken into the Order during the past three months and the drive has not closed. For the months of October, November and December, the Pythians have been conducting Pythian membership drives in the following places from time to time.

The result is as follows:

U. S. HEALTH BUREAU DOCTORS TO SPEAK TO MEN ONLY.

The three Colored doctors who are covering Texas in the interest of the U. S. Health Bureau are scheduled for Dallas next week.

Under the auspices of the Welfare Board arrangements have been made for them to speak to men only at the Pythian Temple, next Tuesday night, January 31. The doctors will cover the question of venereal diseases thoroughly and the men of Dallas can feel assured of a very profitable evening.

While in the city the doctors will hold special meetings in connection with the local medical association and will deliver several lectures at the various schools.

NOTED EDUCATOR TO SPEAK IN FT. WORTH

Reverend Sutton E. Griggs, a Dallas product and one of the most noted orators and Christian statesmen in America will address both Colored and white on the night of February Second at Masonic Temple, East Ninth street.

The Reverend Griggs will speak on the "Question of Relation Between the Races."

CARD OF THANKS AND APPRECIATION.

We take this method to publicly thank the many friends and pleasant acquaintances and the splendid white friends for their tender compassion, loving care and kind favors dispensed towards Mrs. Gertrude Hudson Armstrong during her illness and her mother, Mrs. Lila Hartshorn, daughter, convalescent, Mother died the 15th of Jan. With also to thank those for the beautiful and lovely floral designs and words of cheer, comfort and sympathy. May God forever bless and smile upon you.

Signed:
Mrs. Emma Atkins, Sister-in-law.
Mrs. Gertrude Hudson-Armstrong, Daughter.

NEGRO SONGS.

By Dr. Frank Crane, in Houston Post.

The Negro problem in the United States is usually considered in one of three aspects.

First, as a labor question: His competition with the whites is resented for the reason that his scale of living is lower.

Second, as a political question: The injection of a mass of ex-slaves into the voting population brought its inevitable confusion.

Third, as a social problem: The Negro cannot be argued or legislated out of his status of a human being, and as such he has to get along in some way with white human beings.

There is another aspect of the Negro question, however, which has been neglected, and that is the artistic and aesthetic aspect.

While the Negro is inferior to the Anglo-Saxon in the rougher and more practical activities of civilization there are certain regions of sentiment where he is superior.

In one realm of feeling the Negro is distinctly superior, and that is music.

The only entirely original music produced in the United States, and perhaps in the world, in recent times has been the Negro melodies. They are the products of pure and vigorous creative imagination.

Natalie Curtis Burlin recently got out a series of four pamphlets of Negro folk songs, wherein there is presented to us, in a striking way, the musical genius of the Negro.

The black man produced his music, as all true music is produced, as by-product of his work, his play, and his passion.

He is primarily the creator of the work song. The paraphrase referred to contain interesting examples. For instance, there is the "Peanut-Pickin' Song," which grew out of the times when the slaves of all ages gathered round the open bonfire and picked the harvested peanuts from their stumps.

"I kin fill dis basket if I choose, Den Massa gwine give me Christmas shoes, Two red han'chiefs an' a walkin'-cane, Den I's gwine strut down de Big House lane."

There was the "Hammerin' Song," which comes from the mines of Virginia, where the workmen chanted a simple refrain and were led by a "header," or leader, who received extra pay for his ability in improvisation.

Besides these there is "Chickadee," used by workers on the railroad, imitating the puffing of locomotives; "Liza Jane," one of the many songs improvised for dances; the "Cotton-Pickin' Song," the "Corn-Shuckin' Song" and others.

And no mention has been made of the largest field of all, which is that of the spiritual songs and religious melodies. But the point of it all is that the Negro unconsciously thinks musically. To the white man, music is a luxury. To the Negro, it is life itself.

HAMPTON SINGERS ENTERTAIN RICHMOND.

Dr. J. E. Gregg, Principal of Hampton, Pays Tribute to Negro Music.

CONCERT DRAWS RACES TOGETHER.

3,000 Attend Hampton Concert Hundreds Turned Away for Lack of Room.

Jan. 26.—There were so many white and Colored citizens of Richmond, more than 3,000, who attended the recent Hampton Institute concert, which was given in the First Baptist Church (Rev. Dr. W. T. Johnson, pastor), that the singers had to double duty and entertain an overflow audience in the church's lecture room. Between 400 and 500 persons had to be turned away on account of the lack of room. Many men and women heard the singers from windows in neighboring buildings. The singers and speakers were received with great enthusiasm by the large audience.

Dr. James E. Gregg, principal of Hampton Institute, stated that the concert aimed to interpret through music something of the message of Hampton. The program consisted chiefly of well-known plantation hymns, either in their simpler and more primitive or in their technically more developed form.

"Certain elements of Negro folk music," said Doctor Gregg, "should be taken up and incorporated in anthems and other conventional compositions, just as the folk-songs of Europe have been utilized by some of the great composers."

Tribute to Negro Folk-Songs.

"We also believe that the plantation melodies in their original style, because of their simplicity, their expressiveness, their artistic beauty, and their spiritual depth and power, are indisputably worthy to be preserved and cherished. Their unique value as practically our only native American folk-songs in the English language, is nowadays being more and more widely recognized by musical authorities. As Americans, we all should prize them and love them."

"When we listen to the words of these old spirituals," we are irresistibly impressed, moved, persuaded, convinced by their pathos, their cheerfulness, their courage, their hope, faith, and love. Their message is the message of Christianity itself.

"If Hampton Institute can teach this, along with all the other things that it teaches to its students and through them to others, it will have imparted the truest 'education for life' and will have been working toward the establishment of God's kingdom of righteousness, peace, and good-will."

The program included the following plantation melodies: "There's a meeting here tonight, 'Ride on Jesus,' 'Little David, play on your Harp,' 'Keep Me From Sinking Down,' 'Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray,' 'Every Time I Feel the Spirit,' 'Wasn't That a Witness,' and 'Pare Ye Well.' Several modern choruses by Harry T. Burleigh and R. Nathaniel Dett were included.

Three Colored members of the Hampton Institute staff—Willie H. Patterson, soprano, who sang Johnson's "The Awakening," R. Nathaniel Dett, composer-pianist, who played his own composition, "Incarnation," and Paige I. Lancaster, harpist, who sang Dett's "Pare Ye Well." The program was given by the Hampton Institute Choir, Quartet, and Girl's Glee Club.

DEAF AND DUMB AND BLIND INSTITUTE.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 26.—The health of the Institute has been fine. The Christian Endeavor meeting for the past week rendered a special program. Mrs. C. V. Monroe and Mrs. D. P. Pickard lead the services assisted by Messrs. Leslie Lea and Thomas Green. The B. M. C. Music club entertained the Junior music club, Blind department under the direction of the teachers of music. Misses M. E. Burle and Miss A. D. Grant, visitors present.

Miss M. E. Henderson, teacher of the school, who was visiting, was a friend, Mrs. J. D. Martin; Mrs. Hall, the mother of Mrs. Martin visited her last week, she is of Taylor, Texas. The faculty and employees of the institution gave an informal reception that the friends of the city and members of the faculty of other schools and colleges would have the pleasure of meeting the three teachers now with us from the state of Louisiana for the purpose of receiving training to be able to import to the Blind of their state in the literary and handicrafts and music.

Rev. J. D. Martin, Prof. Martin, Supt. is having a new heating plant installed. All are happy.

Mr. Albert Ephraim and wife and Mrs. Sarah Mack motored to Waco last Saturday. Mr. T. G. Edwards was guests of Miss Nuda Kizsee Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Josh Myles of Valley Junction were up to their church Sunday.

San Angelo, Jan. 26.—Our little snug city was blessed with a small rain last week and closed with a big sand storm. The rain is much needed. The city is quiet, labor is scarce, yet the city is holding its own in way of enterprise. The public school has a splendid attendance. Prof. Brown and his faculty are doing a great work. Too much can't be said of this staff of instructors. The churches of the city are on the upswing. The Ministers Alliance is doing unspeakable good. The majority of the church going people were at the meeting of the Ministers Alliance Sunday evening at the Second Baptist church. Rev. Jno. Brown, pastor, Rev. Burton preached and we witnessed a pious shower. The M. E. people have more life and attendance than has been witnessed for a great while. Our pastor, Rev. C. C. Hammond is the man for this charge.

Waco, Jan. 26.—Mr. Frank Brooks, alias Sonny, came to our city from Jaytown, Texas, and is now ill at the home of his sister, Mrs. L. B. Harris, near 1004 N. Rev. Wm. Stephens is running a revival. Mr. and Mrs. Kemp Smith of Detroit, Michigan, who have been with Mrs. Thomas, Sterling, North 4th street, have left for their home. Mr. Smith was employed as foreman in the construction of P. Q. Dormitory. We learn with pleasure that New Hope has broke ground for their new church, when completed it bids fair to be one of the finest structures on its kind in Central Texas. Mrs. S. Brooks of Marlin, reached our city Sunday to attend the bedside of her son. Mrs. E. Harris sends her subscription for the first quarter, 905 N. 18th. "Patience in our lives count for so much." Much has been lost by not having enough of this element in our lives. I think like the "old adage" the darkest of night is just before dawn. Let us not be so easy to become weak on the way and of so little faith.

On Friday night, Jan. 13, the Chapel of Paul Quinn College was filled to its capacity to witness the inauguration of the officers of the Parent-Teachers Association of East Waco School. A short but spicy literary program was rendered special features of which, were a physical culture drill and a debate.

Resolved that the church should endorse Athletics. A small admission fee was charged, proceeds to be used to install drinking fountains and place warning signs to autoists on corners near the school. Mrs. S. A. Randle is president of this enthusiastic club. Disputants: Mrs. R. H. Hines and Dean Patterson, affirmative. Mrs. P. H. Westbrook and A. T. Strong, Negative.

Service was well attended at all churches Sunday, Jan. 15th, 1922. Read! Read! Boon! your own enterprise.

Cowanville Stop 6.

The community is atting in a spirit of prosperity and unity. There is a splendid spirit of harmony and peace prevailing in the churches and lodges. Mr. Brackins and his family of Muskogee, Okla., moved into the community last week. He is a strong character in the business and financial and will add much to the business enterprise of the community.

The Cowanville Brass Band gave a banquet Monday night at the Masonic hall, it was indeed a delightful affair. Services were observed all day Sunday at St. James A. M. E. church, the pastor, Rev. Corner occupying the pulpit at the usual hour. Text Neh. 6-3, I am doing a great work, and I cannot come down. The spirit prevailed throughout the service.

Rev. J. P. Phillips, pastor First Baptist church reported splendid services throughout the day, special program and service was rendered at Cowans' Chapel M. E. church under the auspices of the ministers council of the community. The service was opened with a splendid prayer service lead by Mrs. Ellis. At eight o'clock, Rev. H. L. Huff, president of the Council announced that Rev. J. P. Phillips would act as Master of Ceremonies. Paper by Mrs. Ellis, subject "Christian Missionaries, the paper was well read and touching every principle of the Christian life.

Miss H. V. Burns, the daughter of the high cultured, Mrs. Burns graced the audience with a solo "Jesus Knows." The young lady was filled with music and lifted the audience high into spiritual ecstasy.

James A. M. E. church was introduced as speaker of the evening, the young man seemed to be at his best inviting the attention of the audience to his text. (Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift, 11 Cor. 9-15, the sermon was well outlined and filled with power and spirit. It seemed that the audience was uplifted in a posture of great amazement.

Before a continuous revaluation of immeasurable glory. After the sermon the speaker received many congratulations. The council will meet next Tuesday night at Mayfield Baptist church.
